PHONE MERGER MEANS NO MORE FREE TOLLS

EVERY CALL TO ORANGE TO BE PAID FOR IS PROPOSAL

Pacific Company Will Upset Practices That Have Long Been In Use Here

MILLS SUGGESTS A COUNTY EXCHANGE

Hearing Before the Railroad Commission Today Brings Out One-system Plans

The one-telephone system in Orange County also means that there will no longer be free connections between any two exchanges.

That, in brief, was the stirring proposal made this morning by the representatives of the Pacific Telephone Company at the hearing of its petition for permission to buy out the Home Telephone Company in Orange County.

If the merger is carried through, as it no doubt will be carried through, the new company proposes to put a rate on conversations between Santa Ana and Orange, Santa Ana and Garden Grove, Santa Ana and Smelter, Santa Ana and Tustin, Anaheim and Fullerton, Fullerton and Placentia, Garden Grove and Anaheim and other connections that are now free.

Call It Illogical
Witnesses were examined this morning by Railroad Commissioner Edgerton, who is conducting the hearing in Santa Ana. A hearing of the petition to consolidate the telephone companies at Long Beach was held at Long Beach yesterday.

The Pacific company declared that the plan of giving free tolls developed in this county through competition. They said that the free connection is not fundamentally good telephone business. A subscriber should be given free connections with the telephone of the exchange to which he belongs, and to no other exchange should he be given free connection.

Promises Betterment
It was stated that the merged company will offer better service through increased connections of all kinds. It was intimated that the present rates for telephones in Santa Ana are below normal, yet there was no statement made indicating that the new company will attempt to raise rates here. In fact, the question of rates would be settled at a future hearing of the railroad commission. The present hearing is for a decision upon the merger. No statement was made as to what rate might be put on between Orange and Santa Ana.

Commissioner Edgerton said that if the merger is granted that the commission would insist that every community be put under one exchange. Attorney Allen of Fullerton said that it would be unfair to make Fullerton pay to talk to Placentia. The Placentia exchange was established for the convenience of the telephone company, not because subscribers wanted it.

Attention was called to the fact that delays in putting in long distance calls between exchanges now having free connection would be an inconvenience and a backward step in service.

Hold-Over Case
The hearing today reached back to the action brought by the Associated Chambers of Commerce four or five years ago. At that time the state commission was asked to make an order compelling the two telephone companies to allow an inter-exchange of long distance calls. That is, a Home subscriber in Santa Ana should be given connection with a Pacific subscriber in Fullerton.

That case has been hanging fire three years. Commissioner Edgerton said this merger probably would settle that case.

Mills' Suggestion
A. A. Mills of Anaheim is ready with a suggestion that all of Orange County be put upon a free toll proposal, with a higher rate, if need be, for individuals' telephones.

At the hearing today but few of the cities of the county were represented. This morning Mills was there from Anaheim and Allen and Attorney Coyle from Fullerton.

KAISER BACKS DOWN ON NEUTRAL RIGHTS IN ARGENTINE CASE

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 29.—Germany surrendered to Argentine precisely the same principles with regard to the rights of neutrals in the submarine zone that she refused to surrender to the United States, it is stated today.

A complete breakdown is contained in the latest note to Argentina and it is regarded as highly significant that Germany fears further alignment of powers against her.

Some circles, however, regarded it as a deliberate backdown in order to complicate Argentina's situation with the allies.

LORD GREY, FORMER CANADIAN GOVERNOR, DEAD IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Lord Gray, formerly governor general of Canada, died here today. He had been ill for months.

Lord Grey was born November 28, 1851, and is of no relation to Viscount Grey, former secretary of state for foreign affairs. He was administrator of Rhodesia, and director of the British South Africa Company prior to becoming governor general of Canada in 1904.

FEAR COUNTER REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—The specter of a counter revolution in Russia was evoked today to persuade widely split elements to reconcile their differences, in Russia's national conference.

The speaker was M. Orekhoff, chief spokesman for the railroad employees. He took the workmen and soldiers' delegates sternly to task for their imagination that every step proposed by the cadets was a reactionary step. He declared, however, if a counter revolution did come, he and his fellow railroad employees would see that it failed, by tying up every means of communication in the country.

Counter Revolution Growing
"There is no doubt a counter revolution is growing," he declared. "If the revolution leaders do not take action, we railroad men by strikes, will see that the movement fails."

Orekhoff's speech was an arraignment of the workmen and soldiers' delegates. He expressed the fear that a shadow hung over the whole conference because the workmen and soldiers saw in every opposition to their plans, "the shadow of returning reaction." He blamed them for "frowning upon" the statement of former Foreign Minister Milukoff (a cadet leader), that the Duma needs democratic socialist government. He held the workmen and soldiers saw the same fear of reaction in every reference to prosecution of war. He called attention to the fact that their delegates sat in sphinx-like silence amid the pro-war applause of the remainder of the vast congress. He charged them with "mistrusting every Duma and military speaker."

Warning of Grave Condition
Save for Orekhoff's speech, this session of the conference was one of professions of faith and of repetitions of general Gornloff's warnings of Russia's grave situation.

M. Groussinoff, representing the Zemstvo organization, pleaded with the delegates to support Korniloff and "save the country from invasion."

M. Proloff, representing the railroad engineers, gave full confirmation to Korniloff's statements that Russia's transport system was disorganized. He declared demands of railway workmen were largely responsible.

Jews Pledge Loyalty
Delegate Groussinoff, speaking in behalf of all Russian Jews, pledged loyalty of that race to the new government.

Several Ukrainian representatives in impassioned addresses, declared their province was "ready for any sacrifice for the country's good."

Mussulmen delegates pledged unswerving fealty to the government.

FIGHTING BOYS WILL BE GIVEN FAREWELL SATURDAY

Plans Changed By News That Nineteen Men Will Leave Here Tuesday

With five per cent of the drafted men of this county leaving here for American Lake next Tuesday and Monday being a holiday, the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning decided to change the date of the public farewell to the drafted men to Saturday night of this week instead of Tuesday night of next week.

According to telegraphic information this morning, nineteen men will leave Orange county on Tuesday.

Details of the big farewell to the boys who will go forward to do their bit for humanity the world over have not yet been worked out and probably will not be until some time tomorrow. Arrangements have been made for the Elks' Band to give its final concert of the season Saturday night in conjunction with the demonstration.

The farewell will be a county affair, with every man in the county in the first draft requested to be present. Time is too short in which to give each of them a personal invitation to be present.

Dr. Clark of Fullerton, member of the exemption board of district No. 2, has advised Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce that the board will co-operate in the movement in every way possible.

Mayor Visel and Clyde Bishop, attorney for the exemption board, are mentioned as among those who will deliver addresses, and it is probable others will be secured.

THREATENED STRIKES MAY TIE UP ALL SHIP BUILDING ON PACIFIC

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29.—Strikes which may tie up completely the steel shipbuilding industries on the coast are threatened this afternoon. Officials of the Seattle Metal Trades Council announced that the unions affiliated with the council had voted for a strike.

Ten thousand men working in the ship yards will quit if the strike is actually called. They want an increase.

SAN FRANCISCO UNIONS VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Local unions affiliated with the Iron Trades Council today sent for strike ballots to vote on a walkout Sept. 13.

STUDENT OFFICERS SIGNIFY CHOICES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Student officers at the second Presidio training camp turned in blanks today showing their preference for branches of the army service, this being the first step toward permanent organization of the camp. The temporary organization had just been completed when orders for immediate permanent organization were received.

Colonel Sladen, camp commandant, announced that his orders were to train 1022 men for infantry, 96 for coast artillery, 350 for field artillery and 40 for cavalry. The cavalrymen will be trained as infantry and then recommended for cavalry commissions.

WOMEN WORK IN S. P. SHOPS; SORT SCRAPS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 29.—Dressed in overalls and working shirts and wearing heavy leather gloves, sixteen women are working at the local shops of the Southern Pacific, sorting scrap iron.

These women were put to work to fill the places of young men called to war. They were hired as an experiment but have been doing such good work that the crew will be retained permanently.

President Leaves Opening For Germany 'We Can't Rely on Kaiser's Word', Charge

Decision For Peace Must Come From German People Present Opinion

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's reply to the Pope's peace plea rejecting it, is our assurance to the German people that if they will overthrow the kaiser and democratize themselves they will be given peace on terms which will not jeopardize democratic Germany's future growth, in the opinion of experts here today.

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Peace rests upon the decision of the German people—not upon their ruler. The peace door swung wide, but the Teutons must come through it without Kaiser Wilhelm as their leader. Else they must be pounded and pierced until their steel convictions melt.

This epitomizes today President Wilson's answer to the Pope's peace proffer, probably now in the hands of the pontiff. His rejection of peace at this time stands out in diplomatic annals as one of the most virile state papers of this war. Yet it is tempered with another direct offer to Germany to get peace by spurning kaiserism with its horrors and insincerity. The President realized that it is no mean task to get the thought into the German people's minds though the germ of democracy has already been sown there—nourished by suffering.

Airplanes to Drop Message
Germany will doubtless withhold the message from her press but it will nevertheless reach the nation by aeroplane couriers to a limited degree. Preparation for this distribution is now under way.

Senators and diplomats hailed President Wilson's message enthusiastically. All agreed he could do no less than spurn the Pope's proposals, based on return to the status quo—and its possibilities of letting Germany prepare for another outrage against the world.

Diplomats—particularly the Russian—pointed out that the answer is virtually Russia's program—no forcible annexations, no punitive indemnities, free development of all nations, and no economic war after the war. This thought is destined to hearten Russia, to gain the support of parties throughout the world who oppose conquest and to correspond to some pacifist programs.

No Dismemberment of Empire
Even more important, insofar as peace prospects are concerned, is the announcement that the President desires no dismemberment of empires; that this is not a war to crush Germany as a nation; but rather to put her on an equal plane with other nations—minus Wilhelm's dream of world domination.

Incidentally the President's message strikes at both post-bellum trade wars—considered by the Paris conference of allies—and at proposed Austro-German trade conquests.

Clearly and unmistakably the President reiterates that the United States seeks no aggrandizement for herself, that she hopes only for the rights of free peoples to dwell without the menace of German "big Berthas" at their doors.

He scorned the thought that Germany—with the kaiser controlling—could write a peace pact that would be other than a "scrap of paper" and suggested that immediately Germany would plot to cheat Russia of her new-born freedom.

Will Win Russia
His program of no punitive indemnities will strike a responsive chord in Russian hearts, while if the thought reaches the general German population it will tend to show their thinkers that America's aims are altruistic and they have a real way out. Military men went to the task of preparation with freshened zeal. They figured that with German casualties now totalling three million or more and with economic strain increasing constantly, the force of the allies, augmented next year by America, must bring the inevitable upheaval which the United States anticipates.

Will Force Germany Into Line
"Another million casualties will force the Germans into line and make them abandon kaiserism," said one expert today.

Some of the optimistic believe Germany will begin to see the light by winter and that President Wilson's plea will then be heeded. Others say it may take a year or two—that is, until America's full strength is felt—before the Germans sense the program they must follow to get peace.

The Pope, it is believed, is done with peace attempts for some time. His thought was that one nation could not impose upon another a form of government control. President Wilson has pushed this thought forcibly. His friends explain that this is not an interference with German rights; it is a protection of world rights, upon which kaiserism has infringed.

WILSON OUTLINES PURPOSE OF U. S. IN WORLD CONFLICT

(From the President's Reply to Pope Benedict.)

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment, controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and honor; which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor; and now stands balked, but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world."

Why the President and the allied governments will not make peace now:

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting."

CALL PRESIDENT SPOKESMAN OF DEMOCRACY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Editorial writers throughout the country, in commenting on President Wilson's reply to the pope, today dwelt especially on the declaration that America and the allies cannot accept the word of an autocracy whose record is one of broken treaties and promises. Many deduced the President appearing in a new light—a spokesman for the forces of democracy.

"A new emancipation proclamation—emancipation for the German people themselves, if they will accept it, no less than for the peoples that are already crushed or menaced by ruthless military power," declared the New York Herald.

The New York Herald said: "The President has answered from the great heart of the American people. It is an answer to the pope, and, as well, to all advocates of a Prussian peace—in this country or any other."

New York Times: "The President offers peace to the German people, but none to men who would accept the offer with a lie in their mouths."

New York Sun: "The next 'scrap of paper' must be endorsed."

Washington Post: "The United States, through President Wilson, notifies Germany that the war will go on until evidence is given to the world by defeat or inner reform, that Germany is no longer a menace, but a peaceable neighbor."

St. Louis Globe Democrat: "The only reply that intelligence, justice and patriotism as well as mercy, could make at this time."

Memphis Commercial Appeal: "It is notice to absolutism and to royal privilege that their day in governmental affairs of the world is soon to end."

Boston Post: "The President shows in his most crystalline and effective fashion how futile and evanescent any peace would be backed only by the puny faith of the Hohenzollerns."

Pittsburg Gazette Times: "The announcement opens the door to peace surely, but the next move must come from the German people."

Message Is One of the Great Documents of Present Day History

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The President's reply on peace follows:

"To His Holiness, Benedictus XV, Pope:

"In acknowledgement of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated August 1, 1917, the President of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of His Holiness the Pope, must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it, and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be gone through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment that will insure us against it."

Interpretation
"His Holiness in substance proposes that we return to the status quo ante bellum and that then there be a general condonation, disarmament and a concert of nations based upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established, and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkan states and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible in the new temper of such a peace, due regard being paid to the aspirations of the peoples whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved."

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restitution of the status quo ante furnishes a firm and satisfactory basis for it. The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor; which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly; stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor, and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world. This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purpose; but it is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling."

The President's Fears
"To deal with such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by His Holiness the Pope would, so far as we can see, involve a recognition of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people who are its instruments, and would result in abandoning the new-born Russia to the intrigues, the manifold subtle interference and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malignant influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world. Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?"

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury. The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the imperial German government, but they desire no reprisal upon the German people who have themselves suffered all things in this war which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of government."

Suffrage Conference
SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 29.—New York State suffragettes met here today for a two-day session at which they will complete plans for a smashing campaign for suffrage in New York state at the next election, November 6.

In addition to the regular suffrage delegates many prominent men and women whose interest in the cause will lead them to give active support to the suffrage campaign are attending.

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany and Mayor John Purroy Mitchell of New York City are to address the convention tonight.

Governor Charles Whitman of New York, and Frank A. Vanderbilt, president of the National City Bank of New York City, are to speak tomorrow night.

SANTA FE SAID TO CONTROL OIL LANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Title to 8,000 acres of Kern county oil land was affirmed as belonging to the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company, controlled by the Santa Fe railroad in a decision of the state supreme court on record today. The property is valued at $8,000,000. The Kern county superior court was reversed in the decision.

ITALIANS STILL SWEEP FORWARD IN RENEWED OFFENSIVE

Capture 1000 More Prisoners; Austrians Retreat In Desperation

40 AIRPLANES RAID BAINSIZZA BATTERIES

Artillery Left In Haste of Pursuit Brought Up By Victorious Troops

ROME, Aug. 29.—The Italians swept forward for further gains in the region of Gorizia today, capturing more than 1,000 prisoners.

The Austrians are desperate in a vain attempt to stop the onrushing Italians. Forty Italian aeroplanes raided the batteries in Bainsizza.

OFFENSIVE PAUSES TO BRING UP ARTILLERY
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Even Italy's great offensive paused momentarily today, making the "breathing space" in the series of simultaneous French, British and Italian drives complete.

The Italian forces have advanced so rapidly that heavy artillery has been unable to keep pace with the infantry. The Bainsizza plateau now is virtually the center of the Isonzo fighting. Austrian forces were reported to be preparing for a stand there, with heavy reinforcements at hand to repel further advance of Cadorna's troops.

In this contingency the Italian war command must move up its artillery over the rocky heights of the Monte Santo chain to prepare for further blasting out of the enemy.

Fighting is still continuing on a heavy scale south of Bainsizza, as the Italian troops drive on toward Trieste. On the British front there was fighting at half a dozen spots but apparently no concerted resumption of Haig's offensive. Paris dispatches indicated the same was true on the French front, an artillery duel being the main fighting activity reported.

Of the German drive on Brina, no fresh word has been received.

"CLEARED A STRONG POINT," SAYS HAIG

LONDON, Aug. 29.—"South-east of Langemarck we cleared a strong point in front of our new line," was the only major fighting reported today by Field Marshal Haig, from the British front. He also detailed successful raids carried out northeast of Gouzeaucourt and southwest of Halluch.

RUSSIANS IN DISORDERLY RETREAT

PETROGRAD, Aug. 29.—Russian troops today continue to desert the firing line in great bodies. The war office declared that a whole division in the region of Muntchelin fled in disorder, permitting the enemy to advance.

TEUTONS CAPTURE RUSSIAN PRISONERS

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Seven hundred Russian prisoners were taken when the Germans drove the Slavs back on the northern front today.

AWAIT NEWS OF TUSTIN BOY BIG DRIVE ON LENS FORTS

Jay Gray Writes That He Has Been Placed in Charge of
Section of Bombers

Undoubtedly Jay Gray of Tustin, son of J. C. Gray of Red Hill road, and brother of Mrs. C. C. Lambert of Tustin, is with the Canadians in their drive on Lens. Following the heavy fighting there, there is bound to be anxiety among his relatives until word is received from him that he is safe.

Recently, Jay Gray, who has been with the Canadians for the last eighteen months and who was with them in the capture of Vimy Ridge, had a six weeks' course at a training camp, after which he was made a lance corporal, and, according to a letter written by him on July 21, he has been placed in charge of a section of bombers.

Friend is Killed
A letter written on June 10 to a sister, Mrs. G. B. McDonour, says:

"I received bad news last week. A Sergeant Gray in another battalion had his head amputated by a whizzbang (eighteen pounds). He used to be sergeant of our platoon in the 103rd, and was one of the first to extend me a hearty welcome when I signed up.

"I picked myself out a nice billet in a tin shed with no front in it one morning, and when I went back to it for dinner, some soldiers had a blacksmith shop shoeing mules going full blast in my little home. Such is the fortune of war!

"I received the Register right along except last month when I was in training camp, taking a probationary n. c. o.'s course."

He Buys Cherries
A letter to Mrs. C. C. Lambert of Tustin says:

"We got paid today, and I was able to indulge in some cherries at seventy-five cents a pound. That is fifteen cents a pound in U. S.

"All the soldiers coming back from Paris on leave are wearing little U. S. flags stuck in their tunics. I guess it was due to the celebration there on the Fourth. I celebrated by listening to our big guns going.

"The cooks found a way of making hamburger steak out of bully beef, so we are feeding pretty good for soldiers."

A letter written on July 21 says:

"From the tone of newspapers it looks as though we would have to put in another winter in the trenches, but, of course, lots of things may happen to end the war before then.

"At present I am in charge of a section of bombers.

"We got paid today, and will have fried eggs with chips (French fried spuds) for supper, and also sliced tomatoes, which cost sixteen cents a pound."

ALMOST WITHIN ARM'S LENGTH OF MOTHER A BOY DROWNS

In Bay Island Channel, Steps
Beyond Depth and Tide
Takes Him Away

Without an outcry, but a few feet from where his mother and sister were wading, Wallace Edward Stockwell, aged 12, was drowned yesterday afternoon in the channel between Bay Island and East Newport.

The boy stepped off into deep water. The mother thought the boy was playing in the water. He was going down for the first time. The outgoing tide had taken him beyond reach of his mother before she realized that he was in danger.

The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stockwell of 406 West Forty-first place, Los Angeles. The family, consisting of parents and four children, had been at East Newport for a week. They prepared to leave for home yesterday afternoon. First, however, they decided to take a swim.

In a boat they rode a distance of two or three blocks to a point in the bay on the south side of the channel between Bay Island and East Newport. There they beached the boat. Stockwell swam some distance away while Mrs. Stockwell and the children waded or idled along the shore.

Wallace was but three or four feet from his mother when he first disappeared under the surface. The bottom of the channel shelves off rapidly at this place, and the boy, according to his mother, had stepped into water four feet deep. He could not swim.

No sound came from the boy, and Mrs. Stockwell did not realize that he was in danger until Mrs. H. I. Mack who was sitting on a porch near by, called out that the boy was drowning. By that time the boy was beyond Mrs. Stockwell's reach.

Before help could arrive, the boy sank for the last time. Divers made search, but the outgoing tide had taken on the body some distance away. It was an hour from the time the boy went under until his body was recovered with grappling hooks. Immediately a physician set to work over the boy. A pulmotor was used, but no sign of life developed.

The body was brought to Santa Ana by Coroner Winbieler and will be sent to Los Angeles today.

BIG WAVE BRINGS IN GIRL WHO WAS CLOSE TO DEATH

There Is Near-drowning In Breakers at Fifteenth St.,
Newport Beach

A wave that broke further out than usual is all that saved the life of a little girl who was in the surf with her sister yesterday afternoon. The near-tragedy occurred off of Fifteenth street, where a number of families are camped in tents.

A little girl who could swim a bit and a sister who could not swim went into the breakers. The one unable to swim was paddling along when the backwash of the breakers carried her out beyond the line of breakers.

She and her sister cried for help. Two men, neither of whom could swim, were near. They rescued the child nearest the shore but were helpless

GREEK DROWNS WHILE FRIEND CALLS FOR AID

Swimming At Mouth of Anaheim Bay, Man Seized
By Cramps, Dies

Afamenontes Zes, a Greek, of Los Angeles, was drowned in Anaheim Bay yesterday. He had been working recently at Seal Beach in a cafe. He was swimming at the mouth of Anaheim bay while his friend, Chris Theodore, watched from the shore.

When in the center of the deep channel, Zes was apparently seized with cramp, and with a cry for help sank from view. Theodore, who could not swim, was unable to go to his assistance, but gave the alarm. The tide was coming in, and the body, which was not recovered, is believed to have been swept into the bay. In the clothes of the drowned man was a draft card bearing the number 108 from Los Angeles precinct 329A.

SWIMMING IN SURF PRIZE HOG DROWNS

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 29.—John Turner, a wealthy Malibu rancher, started to the city today with his prize Poland-China boar, prepared to ship it to Stockton for exhibition. He carried it in a box, using a light auto truck.

Turner is deaf and failed to notice the crash when the box fell from the truck, while ascending a grade.

Clambering from its cage the boar headed for the beach where a party of society girls were bathing. Did they run? They did not. They welcomed his piglets and after they had romped with it in the surf for a while, a party of druggists engaged the attentions of his porkish highness. But then, piggie disappeared.

A little later there was a life saver observed swimming far out in the surf, toward where the druggists' party was bathing. He had seen someone drowned, he declared. After diving several times, the blooded porker was found dead, on the sandy bottom.

Turner now is threatening to sue the city of Santa Monica for the value of his boar.

CANADA FACING CRISIS: PRESENT MILITARY CONDITIONS EXPLAINED

OTTAWA, Can., Aug. 24.—The French-Canadian is the unsolved riddle of the Dominions.

To the British colonist the attitude of the French-Canadian during the war has been inexplicable. The mass of the French-Canadians are opposed to conscription. So bitterly are they opposed to it that threats of armed and organized resistance have been freely made by street speakers in Montreal.

The Nationalist element in French-Canadian politics, led by Henri Bourassa, the brilliant publicist and editor of Le Devoir, a Montreal daily, not only opposes conscription but frankly advocates a policy of the withdrawal of Canada from continued active participation in the war as a fighting force. The Nationalists dream of a day when a French republic will rise on the shores of the St. Lawrence, within whose borders the civilization and ideals of the French-Canadian may be logically developed.

The French-Canadian has had no active connection with France for over 150 years. He points out that his association with the mother country then is about as close as the connection between New England and Great Britain. When France broke with the Vatican the republic shattered its last live connection with the strongly Catholic inhabitants of Quebec. Likewise he has no blood relationship toward giving aid to the other girl.

Suddenly came a breaker that broke much further out than usual. Providentially, it caught the child in its roll, and carried her toward shore and to a point where the men got her.

Members of the Froese Life-Saving Corps, an efficient body of life-savers, were called. They took the pulmotor to the place, but it was not found necessary to use it. The two girls were then in a tent being cared for by their mother, who declined to give the names of the children to the city marshal.

ASK TRANSPORTATION FOR IRON WORKMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Representatives of the Ocean Shore railroad conferred with Mayor Rolph and other city officials today to work out details of a plan to furnish transportation to the Union Iron Works for the thousands of employees. This has been a serious problem since the San Francisco car strike began. Steam trains over the Ocean Shore line and possibly additional trains via the Southern Pacific are being planned.

While city officials are working on the problem for relieving the transportation shortage, efforts to arbitrate the strike continued. President L. L. Lienthal, following the prediction of B. F. Bowbeer of the carmen's union that the strike would be over by Monday, refused comment further than to declare that his company is not taking part in any conferences.

During the last twenty-four hours there have been but two minor disturbances.

Shortage of Ice

We wish to notify retail purchasers of ice that during the month of August there will be a shortage of ice. The wagons will supply customers as far as possible each day, but no customer may have ice two days in succession.

Our plant is running capacity every day and we have attempted to purchase from other Southern California plants, without avail.

We ask the co-operation of the people during this time, as wholesalers are obliged to have ice to take care of their perishable goods.

Placed In Position By Contractor

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 29.—A locomotive today is on the ground ready to take up the work of hauling carloads of material from the end of the Pacific Electric line to the point where the stone is to be dumped into the ocean in the building of the jetty. The locomotive arrived here yesterday.

Work on the jetty is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. A large pile driver is being used to drive piling for the trestle or false work necessary to getting the stone in place. A few more months will witness the completion of the long-talked-of jetty at the entrance to Newport Bay and a safe entrance in all sorts of weather and at any stage of the tide will be assured for all.

Ocean Front Sidewalk

Work on the Ocean Front sidewalk from Twenty-third street to Thirty-sixth street is progressing rapidly. Nearly six blocks of the walk have been completed and persons living on Ocean avenue are once more enabled to walk down town without being compelled to either dodge automobiles in the alley or trudge through the sand along the Ocean Front. Arrangements are being made for the continuation of the ornamental street lighting system throughout the entire length of the walk and when the lights are installed Newport Beach will have one of the most beautiful ocean front promenades on the South coast.

While cutting meat last Friday morning with a cleaver, he made a slip in some way and the sharp instrument nearly severed the middle finger. Seidel continued with his work, after wrapping the injured member with cloth. Blood poisoning developed Saturday, when it became necessary for him to go to a doctor.

The arm was tightly bandaged to prevent the poison extending and the infected part has been confined to the hand and lower arm.

The next day or two will determine whether or not the hand or finger will have to be amputated.

—JUDGE W. H. THOMAS

Rousing Patriotic Meeting Held at Orange Last Night With Organization of The American Council For American Patriotism

Say, to hell with the native or naturalized citizen who has been afforded the hospitality of a gracious nation and the protection of its beneficent laws and then in the time of the nation's crisis who turns and bites the hand that has been feeding him.

Some of you are skeptical, but I say to you tonight that if there is no hell some people will not be properly provided for. I am ready now without asking a single question to go anywhere and to do anything I can for my government. If the supreme sacrifice is to be made, it can not be made in a more noble cause.—Judge W. H. Thomas, in address at Orange.

That the sentiment expressed by former United States Senator Works and Judge Wyckman at the People's Council meeting in Orange a couple of weeks ago is not the sentiment of the majority of the citizens of Orange was fully demonstrated at the meeting of patriots held there at Campbell's hall last night, when the hall was crowded to the doors and hundreds turned away. The American Council for American Patriotism was organized with 522 members.

With telling effect Judge W. H. Thomas and Attorney Clyde Bishop of this city voiced the true patriotic sentiment and spirit of the true Americans of that section and the bursts of enthusiastic applause which greeted their flights of oratory in behalf of a united nation in this war gave forcible evidence of hearty approval by their auditors.

Bishop's remarks were brief but to the point, one of his declarations being that this nation is not warring against the German people but the German system of government. In his usual eloquent way Bishop appealed to the patriotism of the people to stand back of the Government in its fight for the freedom of all nations.

Thomas Talks

Judge Thomas delivered a lengthy address, full of telling points and shafts that strike to the heart and leave a lasting impression.

"We have staked our national existence on this war," said Thomas. "We are in the right. We went into the fight because as a Christian nation we could not keep out. We are fighting for humanity, for freedom and for justice, and we are going to win."

"What are we in the war for? (Answered by extracts from the President's message.) And here is a scrap of paper which the kaiser and all hisimps from hell will not be able to destroy."

"We are opposed to Prussian militarism—not the German people. It is the selfish and ruthless Prussian government and German kultur that we are after. And we are going to get it."

"I quote from William Jennings Bryan: 'Before the nation enters the war it is perfectly proper to discuss the wisdom of going to war, but the discussion is closed when Congress acts. After that no one should be permitted to cloak attacks upon this government or aid the enemy under the claim that he is exercising the freedom of speech. No sympathy, therefore, will be wasted upon those who have been arrested for unpatriotic utterances. They abuse free speech.'"

"I belong to the peace societies. Peace is not the issue. This is one thing the Prussian autocratic government desires more than any other one thing just now."

"Lasting Peace Through German Lines. 'I am not pro-war, I am pro-peace. The quickest and only way to a lasting peace is through the German lines,' and we are going through."

"Appeal to reason? Yes. At present God Himself cannot appeal to the kaiser's reason, and in my judgment will not be able to do so until he has administered to him the supreme whipping of history, which, through the instrumentality of our valiant allies and the help of our dear old Uncle Sam he is now about to do."

"We have had the most pacific administration of our existence. It appeared to reason for two years with the most humiliating and awful results. Among them are: Sinking our ships, firing on hospital ships, firing on field hospitals, life boats, drowning sailors. These are all on a par with a burglar entering your house, beating your wife to insensibility, raping your daughter, murdering your sons and stealing your property."

"I say a man who would not fight under these conditions is a miserable coward and a contemptible cur. 'We'll fight if they come here.' This is frequently heard from pacifists. Sure. Why not come before me with a petition for an injunction against Germany. I will be glad to grant such an injunction. But would it do any good?"

Will Never Wear Stripes
"We were invaded at the 20th meridian on February 7, 1917—when the kaiser told us how and when we could travel on the seas, under what conditions—among them, that if we painted our ships with certain stripes, etc., we could have one ship a week sail on the world's highway. Listen to me! Uncle Sam will never wear stripes at the dictate of any foreign nation, much less the chief command of the chief ambassador of His Satanic Majesty, Kaiser Wilhelm! Do you get me?"

"You say I am working on the sentiments and passions of the people. Of course I am. If I had the power, I would work on every man, woman and child until the blood boiled. Don't you realize that that is what is the matter with us? Warm up! Don't wait until a husband, or son, or father is killed somewhere in France."

"These are grand and awful times. I would rather live now than when Christ walked and talked in Palestine. We are actually making the world safer for democracy—which is only another way for the practical application of the principles Christ taught in the Sermon on the Mount."

A Message

"This, then, is my message—stand by the government in this, its greatest trial, and with all our powers and in the most whole hearted manner possible help to suppress immediately anything or anyone who hampers it in the carrying out of its purposes, that the ideals which our president set forth so forcibly in his message of April 2, 1917, may be carried out, thus making the world safer for democracy."

"Then, after this cruel, unjust and ungodly war is over, we may look forward to the new era, which if this administration is adopted, may soon brighten the hills of coming times. This will surely usher in the thousand years, the million years, yea, the perpetual year of peace. Peace! The greatest blessing that Almighty God has ever bestowed upon any nation."

Effecting Organization

At the conclusion of the addresses "The American Council for American Patriotism" was organized, with 522 members on the charter roll. Enthusiasm ran high and there was a general rush for membership in the organization. One hundred and eight signed for membership in the home guard to be organized.

The following are named as members of the executive committee, which was empowered to name the officers for the organization: F. L. Almsworth, W. R. Garrett, C. E. Teach, George A. Atwood, F. L. Moore, E. J. Leggett, C. C. Storer, S. M. Craddock, F. E. Hallman, G. L. Jackson, C. J. Overshiner, R. C. Smith, George J. Hart, Ed. Vaughn, Mrs. Alice Armour, Mrs. D. C. Drake, Mrs. George Harper, Mrs. A. Higgins, W. L. Taylor, John Teasdale, Rev. M. L. Pearson, Rev. W. H. Galbraith, Rev. J. E. Hall, Rev. W. G. Oram, C. B. Campbell, K. E. Watson, J. R. Porter, N. U. Potter, D. C. Pixley, James Fullerton, S. Armore, A. D. Hoenshell, N. T. Edwards, F. D. Drum.

S. M. Craddock was chairman of the meeting, and vocal and fine drum music was rendered during the evening. Pictures of Lincoln, Washington, Grant and Wilson were features of the decorations on the stage.

The Star Spangled Banner was rendered as a solo by Miss Martha Craddock as the closing number with the audience standing and joining in the last verse.

SPAIN RELIEVED BY ENTRANCE OF U. S.
INTO WORLD WAR

LONDON, Aug. 8 (By mail).—America's entrance into the war has greatly simplified England's difficulty in dealing with the pro-German intrigues in Spain.

The most effective weapon England has for persuading the Spanish to deal firmly with the anti-ally forces is the blockade. By threatening to cut off needed supplies such as coal and food-stuffs, England has been able to partly check the hostile movement.

But Spain's strength and England's weakness in the matter before America's entrance has been due to the fact that Spain was always in a position to defy the latter and draw her needed imports from the United States. Spain, not being contiguous to Germany and therefore unable to re-export any American imports to the Central Powers, England realized she would have no valid excuse for interfering with Spanish-American trade.

Now, however, with a common Anglo-American blockade policy, the Allies are on much surer ground and are not expecting any further serious difficulty with Spain regarding the harboring of U-boats, submarine bases and Teutonic propaganda.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY

The reply of President Wilson to the Pope's peace message in unmistakable diction, clarion-like, breathing the determination of a free people, sets before the world more plainly than ever the war aim of the United States. With five months gone by since President Wilson declared that "the world must be made safe for democracy," the kaiser is given to understand and to realize as he may not have realized when he first blundered into bringing America into the war that this fight is a fight against a world menace of which he is the representative.

The document will take its place among the tremendously important documents brought forth by this war. While it is the reply of President Wilson for the United States, it is the reply of the allied world to a suggestion that peace be declared while kaiserism lives.

While autocracy remains powerful, it remains a menace. While autocracy can again hurl millions into conflict, the world is unsafe for democracy, it is unsafe for human beings. While autocracy rules any great country, the Stars and Stripes are menaced, and the thing that we should do today is merely put off until tomorrow.

We want no such breathing spells. We want to finish the job now. We want no false peace, no terms that Germany dare break at the call of a kaiser.

The people of the United States are with the President. The reply that he has made is the one that they expected that he would make. It was one that they would have had him make. It was the only one that he could make. That he has made the position of this country so clear, that he has stated the situation so exactly, that he has displayed the utmost courage of a free people so positively—these are causes for congratulation and pride at this time when every man's soul cries out for peace—a peace that shall have no fateful ending.

WANTING IT ENOUGH

"After all, a man does what he wants to do," said Dr. James J. Walsh, physician, teacher and psychologist, in an interview for the American Magazine.

"Therefore he must be taught as a child, and he must learn in adult years to teach himself, to want to do the right thing and to want it so hard, that he is bound to arrive at the wished-for goal. Anybody can sit down and say, 'I'd like to be head of my company or the president of the United States, or the best salesman in the world.' That much is easy. It is exactly what the baby does when it sits on the floor and squalls for a piece of candy. But it is a very different thing from wanting something so much that he is willing to set about it and undertake at once the doing of the impossible. The trouble with the average man is that he does not want things hard enough."

Dr. Walsh goes on to explain that the reason why most people don't get where they would like to be is because they are too soft. He has no patience with the education which makes things easy for children. "It would be far better to take up half the time making them do things they do not like at first."

"For success and achievement do not lie at the end of easy roads. A man who wants to be big and happy and of importance in the world must want to do hard things. He must have the wish, the will, to be up and ready for the fight each morning."

That will power can be cultivated, even in later life, Dr. Walsh is convinced.

"Each man can prove this for himself. Let him try to do some little thing that seems hard, and then, after he has done this, let him try something a little harder. He will soon find that the hard things are not so hard, after all."

Physical inability is no excuse, in this creed, because the man "who continues to will and will, will find in himself unsuspected layers of energy."

It's a hopeful and reasonable standard. And the best part of it is that men are beginning to find out that the success of one need not be at the expense of another. Rather, by co-operation, success and happiness are attainable for all.

STEEL FIBRE NIKS SUITS

are not luxuries,—they're necessities.

Obviously NIKS will outwear two pairs of ordinary knickers, for if one jagged tear will ruin one pair of knickers, two tears will finish a combination suit; whereas two thicknesses of fabric interwoven will resist any number of tears. It is also self-evident that one pair of knickers cost only half as much as two. The stitches do not show on the outside of the knickers, but turn them inside out, and the proof is visible.

Steel Fiber NIKS suits are re-inforced by a patented interweaving stitch that makes them

With Malice Toward None

Off to Siberia

Pathos is not wanting in the episode of the ex-czar being bundled off to Siberia, but it was present in more abundance in each of the countless episodes when political offenders were sent into exile. They were torn away from their families and their possessions. What may have become of the families is problematical, but the czar took care of the possessions, adding them to the royal estates. The only chance to feel a trifle sorry for the ex-czar lies in the fact that he may have been a greater fool than knave. Doubtless he was in the midst of corruption, and he could not have been responsible for all of this. If Siberia strikes him as uncongenial, he should reflect on the thousands of innocent who have died in its mines and camps, or its desolate trails, and perhaps, under the conviction that he is only getting his deserts, try to be a philosopher. At least his rebellious people let him keep a head on his shoulders, even if they deprived the head of its tinsel crown.

Shines

Advice to put sunshine in this column hereby is acknowledged. Am shy of that commodity just now. Busy enough anyhow in trying to keep moonshine out.

Inconsistent

The people of Aurora, Ill., escorted a man to the municipal limits, and barely refrained from carrying him across the line on a rail. His offense was that he had been peddling the reasonable paper that has the benison of the approval of Bill Thompson, mayor of Chicago. And nobody has offered to escort Bill to the municipal limits.

The Army Mule

The army mule should have a meed of glory.

With deep regret we watch him leave the field. Unsung his part in battle gory. Yet future scribes, in writing up his story,

Will say no mule went into action not well heeled.

Alas, the auto truck will soon succeed him;

The mule will pull the calm, domestic plow;

For sodder folk declare they do not need him;

He's rather slow, and much it takes to feed him;

So out he goes, no laurel on his brow.

Answers to the Curious

Feminine—Protest against "linching" o. k. and heartily indorsed save as to spelling, which is too simplified.

Pessimist—Truly sorry that the weather doesn't suit you. Will ascertain what may be done about it, and let you know.

Auto Crank—Policemen may sometimes be justified in shooting at a tire, especially if he misses and hits a drunken chauffeur.

Reader—A list of all Arctic and Antarctic expeditions and resulting casualties would exceed space limits by about 400 columns. Sentence yourself to six months in the public library, and go to it.

Annoyed—The only way to prevent begging on the streets would be to abolish the streets. The fact that these pretty generally have been given to corporations complicates matters.

Jester—Jokes not available. Might have been if the public did not have access to the same almanac.

S. L. B.—Consult a physical geography as to latitude. This department hasn't enough of it to go deeply into the subject.

Querist—It was Mr. Harrison who said long ago that a cheap coat made a cheap man. This style of coat having been utterly abolished since, no matter.

Hungry—The reason for the advanced price of butter was discovery of the fact that people would pay it rather than swallow their bread unlubricated. The idea that it advanced because of inherent strength cannot be sustained.

Proof Clear

"You want a divorce on the ground of insanity? Is your husband really crazy?"

"Him? No, me. I can prove it by letting the jury look at him."

Never Explained

Why a woman married to a man more than twice her age, and under conditions suggesting that she is an adventuress, should be mugged for the papers, always has been a mystery to me. It is easy enough to understand why certain people are mugged for the guidance of the police. But just because the course of a woman has been in questionable taste, and her personal history not such as to make her welcome where respectability is a requirement, certain papers spread her all over the first page that might have contained news or something of value.

BARRED ON ARMY TEST

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 29.—Meredith (Jud) House, the famous Stanford hurdler, failed to pass the physical examination yesterday on account of his eyes. He was much disappointed. It was the third time he had taken the examination and each time the physicians discovered defective vision. House says he will go back to Stanford and go into training for the spring meet.

"I do not know what I'll do next," he said. "I sure would like to go to France. I may try the navy, and if they discover my bum lamps I guess I must stay at home and teach the Stanford freshmen how to jump the stick."

INSTANTLY KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—O. N. Natus of Long Beach was almost instantly killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile truck in Wilmington. He was thrown against a telephone pole and died in ten minutes.

NAME DROPPED FROM CONSPIRATORS LIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A name was dropped from the list of those to stand trial for the alleged conspiracy to liberate Franz Bopp, former German consul and E. H. Von Schaack, former vice consul from the internment camp, and the name of John Doe was added when the contents of the grand jury's indictment became known today. Ernest Bohlen is the man who may not come to trial, it being understood that he will appear as a witness for the Government.

Bedtime Story

Giant Golden Beard

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

AFTER daddy had fed the chickens he told Jack and Evelyn this bedtime story: "An old woman once changed a young man into an ant so that he might do the bidding of his king, which was to bring three hairs from Giant Golden Beard's beard."

"Said he, 'I want to know why the city fountain runs dry, why the tree that bore gold apples is now leafless and what binds the ferryman to his job.'"

"The old woman hid him in her cloak and said, 'Listen to what the giant says when I pull the hairs out of his beard.'"

"I smell flesh!" roared the giant when he came home.

"Stop throwing things about for me to straighten!" snapped his grandmother. So he put his head in her lap and soon went to sleep. When he awoke she pulled a hair out of his beard. It startled out of his sleep, and she explained: "I had a bad dream and seized hold of your beard. I dreamed the fountain is dry. What can be the cause?"

"They would be glad to find out!" said the giant. "Under a stone in the fountain sits a rood. When they take him out water will flow."

"When he fell asleep again the old woman pulled out another hair. 'What are you doing?' roared the giant.

"Don't be angry," she begged. "I did it in my sleep. I dreamed that a beautiful tree which used to bear gold apples now hasn't a leaf on it. What can that mean?"

"Ah!" cried the giant. "Don't they wish they knew! At the foot of the tree a mouse is gnawing. If they kill him the tree will bear golden apples again. If not, it will soon die. Now let me sleep in peace. Awake me again and you'll be sorry!"

"Soon as he snored she pulled out the third hair. He jumped up and threatened her, but she soothed him. 'A strange dream I had! I thought I knew a ferryman bound to ply backward and forward over a lake. He could never get free. What is the charm that binds him?'

"A silly fool!" roared the giant. "If he were to give the rudder into the hand of any passenger he would find himself free. The passenger would be obliged to take the rudder or drown. Now, let me sleep!"

"So his grandmother had found out all that the young man on a king's errand wanted to know. And if you will now run off to bed like good children daddy will tell you what happened to the young man tomorrow night," daddy promised.

PEACE NOW UP TO GERMAN

ernments—the rights of peoples great or small, weak or powerful—their equal right to freedom and security and self-government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world—the German people of course included, if they will accept equally and not seek domination.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing government, on the one hand, and a group of free peoples on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied.

States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furious and brutal power of the imperial German government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty both of those that are weak and of those that are strong. Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting. Without such guarantees treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmament, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on. We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the Central powers. God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations and the possibility of a covenanted peace. (Signed)

H. C. OF QUEENING
SOARS; ICE CREAM
TAKES PRICE JUMP

CHICO, Cal., Aug. 29.—Great gobs of woe among the Chico boys and girls.

While their elders are worrying over the High C. of L. suddenly the High Cost of Queening has been thrust into their realization.

At a meeting of ice cream manufacturers it was voted to raise the price of ice cream. From that springs the woe. A banana special costs a nickel more than it used to and so do most of the other dainties which Chico boys have purchased for their sweethearts from the ice cream man. Substantial increases have been made in the various types of ice cream sold in quarts, pints or gallons.

The high cost of nuts, creams, flavoring extracts and everything else is the cause.

FOOD PLEDGES

Campaign For Signatures to End Sept. 5—Response
Urged By Chairman

A call has come from the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense to the State committees and through them to the several county organizations to close the campaign for signing the food pledges, sent out some two months ago, by September 5.

Mrs. A. J. Lawton, chairman for Orange county, requests all district and local chairmen to comply with this request. Following are the chairmen for the five supervisory districts: No. 1, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, 401 East Pine, Santa Ana; No. 2, Mrs. J. G. Dunn, Garden Grove; No. 3, Mrs. Carrie J. Drake, Fullerton; No. 4, Mrs. J. D. Mills, Orange; and Mrs. D. E. Mann, Fullerton; No. 5, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Tustin.

The local chairmen in these districts are asked to report to their respective district chairmen. Pledges may be secured at the council headquarters, city hall, Santa Ana, by all women who desire to join in the food conservation campaign outlined by the national food administration.

The following paragraph is quoted from Dr. Anna Howard Shaw's letter, which asked for the finish of the food campaign:

"It is an error for women to feel as they do in some localities, that unnecessary stress has been laid upon the economy and elimination of waste in household management. The dangers depicted are not imaginary, but real, more real than most people imagine, and Mr. Hoover, who in Belgium was in the midst of and witnessed the horrors of hunger, which cost thousands of lives especially of the aged and children, who were unable to bear the physical strain of undernourishment—is seeking with the zeal of one who knows to prevent similar disasters from overtaking us."

"Let the women of this country refuse to indulge in the spirit of criticism—too ripe among the people. Let us set an example of loyal confidence in the man whom the President selected for the special purpose of preventing suffering from hunger among either the people at home or the army abroad. It is our privilege and duty to uphold the food administration in every helpful way by urging women everywhere to prove their oft-repeated claim that they are ready to serve their country whenever called upon."

'An Evening With David Harum'
Is Program For Tomorrow Night

The Fraternal Brotherhood is looking forward to a particularly enjoyable meeting tomorrow night, when the program will be given by Gen. Geo. S. Adolph of Los Angeles, who is a dramatic reader of great talent and many years experience. General Adolph is Lieutenant General of the Uniform Rank. The program will be "An Evening With David Harum," and the reading will be from that delightful book. An excellent musical program will also be given. It is hoped that as many members as possible will attend, as this will be the last meeting at which President Floyd Turner will be in the chair, as he is among those whom their country has called, and will leave next week for American Lake.

Much interest is being taken by members in the membership contest for which the prize, a Ford automobile, will be awarded on December 15th., and several candidates will be initiated tomorrow night.

A number of attractive programs have been arranged for and T. F. B. expects to enjoy one of the best seasons in its history.

INTERESTING WEDDING

Santa Ana Girl Journeys to Wyoming to Become Bride of Lawrence Cullen

Miss Frieda Newcomb left this afternoon over the S. P. Coast Route for Cheyenne, Wyo., where she will become the bride of Lawrence W. Cullen of Torrington, Wyo. The young couple both made their home in Independence, Kan., for many years and the wedding comes as a culmination to a romance that began in their former home. Miss Newcomb has lived here for only a short time, but has won many friends by her charming personality. She is a sister of Fred Newcomb of the Turner Shoe Company. The young couple will make their home on the groom's large ranch at Torrington.

Learns of Sister's Death
J. A. Hankey yesterday received word of the death of his sister, Miss Sadie A. Hankey, at Spokane, Wash., on Monday, August 27. Miss Hankey lived at the home of her brother here in Santa Ana for fifteen years, and was an earnest worker in the First Methodist church. She had many friends here who are grieved to learn of her death. She had been an invalid for some years. The funeral will be held at the home of a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Collins, of Spokane.

Dancing Party
Miss Beulah Peters was hostess at an informal dancing party given last evening at her residence, 1022 North Broadway.

The affair was given in honor of her guest, Miss Lorena Cox of Los Angeles.

Those who participated in the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Voltz of Orange, the Misses Josephine Dean, Hulda Walther, Lorena Cox, Beulah Peters; Messrs. Lloyd Fuller, Dick Lash, John Cannon, and Tom Trithall.

CORONA ALSO COMES IN FOR A PRODDING

Riverside Press: The Redlands Facts offers the following apropos of the plans of Orange county for the improvement of the Santa Ana canyon road.

Now that Orange county plans for paying her six miles of bad road through the Santa Ana canyon, on the road to the Orange county beaches, may we, without undue presumption, ask the city of Corona, or the supervisors of Riverside, or whoever is in authority, the why of that half mile just west of Corona, which is as bad as any Orange county road ever thought of being?

Corona certainly has some prodding of this sort coming to it. To be sure the "missing link" referred to is not long, but its condition is disgraceful. The road is all in the city limits of Corona, and if the city is not in position to pave it now, there is no good reason why a good smooth dirt road should not be maintained. The bit of highway is a fine companion for the stretch that Ontario suffered to exist for so long. That has now been paved and it is up to Corona to "come across" with some sort of an improvement.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN PIG-RAISING CONTEST

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 29.—Dozens of school boys and girls of Los Angeles county have enrolled in the vocational department contests of the state fair to be held this fall at Sacramento. Particularly popular has been the pig-raising contest for which the reward will be a substantial cash prize, as well as the profits which naturally come to the person who successfully guides a nice little piggy through the stages of growth into a big fat hog.

THIRD CALL MADE FOR SANTA MONICA QUOTA

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—A third call to men of the third Los Angeles county district was issued yesterday by the board. It summoned 202 men to report for examination. Thus far 143 men have been selected toward the quota of 174 men this district is expected to provide. As about one in five thus far called has been accepted for service, it is expected that the third call will fill the quota.

The call includes Tod Burns, one of the best known aquatic athletes in Southern California, and A. Barloti, corner leader of the Venice municipal band, and one of the best known baritones among Italian band men in the United States.

POSSIBILITY U. S.
MAY OPERATE MINES

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Government operation of coal mines in the central competitive field to insure an adequate fuel supply to meet wartime needs, today was a possibility.

Operators were silent while United Mine Workers officials awaited a reply to their invitation for a joint conference to discuss the wage increase proposed yesterday. The miners, however, expect the operators to agree to a conference.

But, there were intimations among pessimistic operators here that they were about ready to turn their mines over to Coal Dictator Garfield and let him wrestle with their problems. Confronted on one side with the maximum price for coal and on the other by the miners' request for increased pay, the operators feel that they are "between the devil and the deep blue sea."

Union officials pointed out they offered, if necessary, to go to Washington and show their need for higher wages, in an effort to secure an upward revision of the present coal maximum price.

Miners point to rapidly rising prices of the necessities of life and to their fixed wage.

WHITTIER FLIER MAY BE GERMAN PRISONER

WHITTIER, Aug. 28.—"Missing since August 12," is a portion of the message received here today from John McLaren of Leeds, England, referring to Lieut. Fred McLaren, the Whittier lad who had been operating a battle plane over the German lines.

The cablegram was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McLaren, 447 North Washington avenue. The cablegram adds that it is the belief of the British authorities that Lieutenant McLaren has been taken prisoner by the Germans.

He is a member of the British Royal Flying Corps, and the last direct word from him to his parents was on July 24. He had been on the French front three years, about eight months ago entering the aviation service.

TESTIMONIALS FOR MEDICINES

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company Publishes Only Genuine Ones.

The testimonials published by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company come unsolicited. Before they are used the Company takes great care to inform itself about the writer. Never knowingly, has it published an untruthful letter, never is a letter published without written consent signed by the writer.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; and their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as time or other while you are at camp, you're going to be drafted for a month's duty as dining room orderly.

And woe be unto you if you miff your job. The mess sergeant, that monarch of the mess hall crowned with a white cap, will be good to you as long as you're good to your job. But if you funk it, O Boy!

So, for your advance information, here is a list of your duties:

Your boss is the mess sergeant. You are held responsible for the cleanliness of the dining room, pantry, the dishes and utensils.

If a plate, a spoon, a cup or what-sever, is lost or broken, and you can't find it or name the man who is to blame for it, you're the goat. Upon being relieved at the end of your month's duty, all loss and breakage unaccounted for is charged out of your pay.

You've got to be at the mess hall not less than ten minutes before each meal. Then you cut the bread into thin slices and pile it neatly on plates, one of which is provided for each table.

Cut Bread

During the service of the meal, you stay in the bread room and cut bread, handing it out to the waiters as they call for it. And if you're wise, you'll stay there and cut bread, nothing else.

Be mighty careful how you cut it along toward the end of the meal, too. If you cut more than the men can eat, and a lot is left over, you'll hear from the Mess Sergeant in no uncertain terms.

After the meal has been served, check up on every man's utensils, then take all the food left on the serving trays back to the kitchen. Whatever bread is left over in slices, you pack closely in the bread box and serve it first at the next meal.

And don't throw away the bread crumbs that accumulate in the bread room and the pantry. Turn them over to the cooks. They can use them.

Clear the Tables

Then you help boss the cook's police clear the tables in the dining room. Next you brush the tables. Then you scrub, then good with hot water and soap, rinse them in cold water, and dry them.

Then you clean the saltcellars, pepper boxes, vinegar cruets, mustard pots and sugar bowls and fill them for the next meal.

After breakfast you place the stools on the tables, legs up. Then you sweep and mop the dining room floor, using as little water as possible, for the sake of avoiding sloppiness, and carefully dry it.

After dinner and supper, in addition to the aforementioned things, you sweep the dining room carefully. As soon as the floor is swept or swept and scrubbed, you place the tables, put the stools in place and make the dining room as clean and neat as possible.

That's the job. If you do it right, you will be commended. If you do it wrong you will be made to do it right.

PASADENAN IN FRANCE FOR RED CROSS BOARD

PASADENA, Aug. 29.—L. D. Wishard of 175 South Mentor avenue, who has been named a member of the American Red Cross Relief Commission to Serbia, was a classmate of President Wilson at Princeton. When the war broke out he wrote the President, offering his services in any capacity they might be used. He is now in France, paving the way for the arrival of the commission.

TROPICO VOTES ON L. A. ANNEXATION

TROPICO, Cal., Aug. 29.—Tropico's 1450 electors are at the polls today voting on the question of annexing the city to the city of Los Angeles. A similar proposition in Santa Monica was defeated a short time ago. When special election was called an effort to have the question of bonding the city for a water system failed.

TROOPS LEAVE CAMP FREMONT FOR EAST

HOOVER'S AIDES IN CALIFORNIA ARE APPOINTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Ralph P. Merritt, California federal food commissioner and representative of Herbert Hoover in this state, announced today the personnel of the food conservation board and the agricultural products board, two of the four boards which will control food conservation, agricultural products, marketing and distribution and food industries in the great economies of the war period.

The food conservation board will be Miss Ethel Moore of Oakland, Miss Charlotte P. Ebbets, San Francisco, and Edward H. Benjamin, San Francisco.

Edward H. Benjamin, who will be chairman of the committee on public dining service, is president of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, and a former associate and close friend of Herbert Hoover. He will have charge of the conservation of food in hotels, restaurants, dining cars and other public and semi-public places of food consumption. He will advise with the owners and managers of these important agents for checking wastage for saving wheat and meat, and will establish a regimen for their guidance and that of their patrons.

Miss Moore, who will be the representative on the food conservation board of the women's executive committee of the state and national council of defense, is a trustee of Mills College, Oakland, and a noted authority on playground activities. Miss Ebbets will be the director of household economies.

Thomas F. Hunt, who will be chairman of the board of agricultural products, is dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California. He will choose the other members of this board.

MORRIS TO OPEN BEAN CLEANER PLANT NEXT FRIDAY

Down-to-Minute Equipment Installed at Warehouse On Washington Ave.

Bob Morris, former bean grower on the San Joaquin ranch and for the past three years in charge of bean cleaning machinery at two different points in the county, has established a bean cleaning business of his own, and will commence operations Friday of this week. He was in charge of a plant at Garden Grove for two seasons and at Smeltzer for one season.

He has secured a lease on the old warehouse at the corner of Washington avenue and the Southern Pacific tracks, this city, and has installed up-to-the-minute bean cleaning machinery. He has facilities for storing many sacks of beans.

The capacity of the equipment is about two carloads a day, with the average run of beans. Should beans brought in for cleaning require hand-picking he will probably give employment to fifteen or twenty women at a time.

A McKain bean cleaner has been installed and this machine does high-grade work.

With practical experience as a grower and management of cleaning equipment for three seasons, Morris knows the requirements of the business. He will give the cleaning his personal supervision, assuring those who entrust their work to him that their beans will be cleaned in the most thorough manner possible.

The plant will employ eight people during the season. The business will be operated under the name of the Morris Warehouse Company.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Aug. 29.—Granting of the Pacific Electric franchise extension was the principal transaction of the city trustees at their special meeting. The board went over plans for the proposed right of way with Engineer C. K. Bowen of the P. E. maintenance of way department and at the end of the conference gave its official approval of the franchise.

Some changes have been made in the proposed right of way since first plans were announced. Abandoning its right of way between Chapman and Maple avenues on North Lemon street the line angles from Chapman and Lemon to Maple and Cypress, crossing P. E. property all the way. It follows North Cypress for nearly a block and just before reaching Palm avenue strikes diagonally northwest, crossing Palm about half way between Cypress and the Santa Fe tracks. Right of way has been secured across the Santiago Orange Growers' site for the new pre-cooling plant just north of Palm avenue and the P. E. will run along the east side of the plant, keeping about the same distance from the Santa Fe as where it crosses Palm avenue. At Sycamore the line curves over to parallel the Santa Fe tracks out to the city limits.

Engineer Bowen announced that good progress was being made in settling right of way matters, although some difficulty was being encountered in one or two instances. "We'll get through all right," said Mr. Bowen, "because we are dealing with our friends. I'm glad, considering that we don't have to deal with our relatives. We'd have to give them the railroad to get over their property."

The Orange Contracting & Milling Company and H. W. Dukor have been awarded the contract for erecting the new garage and machine shops at Orange Union High School. This firm was low bidder on the contract, its figure being $7,000. Work will be started at once on the new building, which will occupy a site just north of the present group.

Two other contracts are announced by the Orange Contracting & Milling Company, both being for residences. One is a six-room bungalow for Mrs. E. Gollis on North Cleveland street, and the other a seven-room house for A. A. Evans on South Orange street. Both will be completely modern homes.

Rev. N. F. Jensen of Los Angeles has accepted the call to the pastorate of St. John's Lutheran church in this city. He will be installed as pastor next Sunday evening.

Rev. Jensen, who has been in the deaf and dumb missionary field for the last several weeks, was extended the call several weeks ago. His answer was announced Sunday.

Rev. Jensen is preparing to move his family to Orange, having leased the Dickson residence at Glassell and each rancher his OWN water boss at

CAPAY RANCHO

Included in the price—$135 to $150 an acre—these independent water systems means success for the Capay rancher.

Free from waits or delays, free from weeds and noxious grasses of the "open-ditch" system—CAPAY RANCHO ranchers irrigate when they please and as long as they please, mid-summer, winter, spring and fall.

Under this "forced sale" CAPAY RANCHO farms are going fast. Experienced ranchers claim land the equal of this $135 acre land with water cannot be obtained today in California for double the price. Search if you will for land as good at even $300 an acre.

Surrounded by thriving, fast growing communities with good grammar and high schools, packing houses, olive picking plant, creameries and a half-million dollar sugar beet factory.

Experts claim that anything grown in California can be commercially grown in this early fruit district. $10,540 last season from 14 acres of prunes, $516.36 from one cutting from 27 acres of alfalfa and $200 an acre net each year for 5 years from olives are just a few emphatic reasons why you should investigate CAPAY RANCHO at once.

Land Including Water $135 to $150 an Acre If You Desire Take Ten Years to Pay

APPEALS TAKEN FROM DECISION OF EXEMPTION
BOARD HERE

Papers of Seven Men Have Been Forwarded to Upper Body For Ruling

So far seven appeals have been taken by men whose exemption pleas have been rejected by the exemption board of District No. 1, Orange county, and their papers, including the report of the physicians, the claims and the affidavits, have been forwarded to the appeal board in Los Angeles.

These appeals will bring to plain issue whether or not the local board was right in refusing to exempt a married man who has a wife only dependent upon his labor, when the man's leaving may mean that the wife will have to go to work or depend upon relatives to care for her.

Not all of the appeals so far taken are by men who have wives. One instance is that in which N. J. Alleman of Harper, has a child dependent upon him.

On August 25 and August 27 the local board mailed notices to those whose exemption claims have been refused, telling them of the action of the board. The man who desires to appeal has ten days from the time of the mailing of the notice in which to file his appeal here.

Those who have so far filed their appeals are:

Kenneth E. Morrison, 202½ East Tenth; Newton J. Aleman, Harper; Leo B. Wilson, Irvine; George K. Brandriff, Orange; William C. Conway, Tustin; Paul V. Smith, 529½ South Main; Ernest L. Brooks, 302 Ross.

Instructions Received

Today the local board received from Adjutant General Borree instructions concerning the mobilization. These instructions are in accord with the dispatches of yesterday and Monday. Five per cent of the men are to go on September 5, and 40 per cent on September 19.

District Board Session

Important matters in regard to the exemption of men from the new National Army were settled yesterday by the District Board in session in Los Angeles. Dr. C. D. Ball is the local representative of this board.

Decisions were reached yesterday which make exemptions probable on the following grounds:

Married men will be exempted.

Farmers will be exempted.

Men engaged in the industries described in the President's proclamation will be exempted.

But no married men with rich wives; no "gentlemen farmers," and no industrial workers who do not contribute to the nation's driving force in the war will be exempted.

Married Men Exempt

Dr. Ball states that there is no question but that married men with children will be exempt. Married men with wives who will be forced to go to work in case the husband is certified for service, will also probably be exempt. Married men with rich wives who are not dependent upon their husbands for support will probably be certified for service.

Rich farmers, living on large country places, with little of productive income will probably not be exempt. Major Edward Fletcher of San Diego, who heads the committee investigating all appeals for exemptions made by men engaged in farming, yesterday described the agriculturist who may expect exemption. His definition, it is said, will greatly discomfit a number of young men for whom farms have been purchased recently either by themselves or rich fathers.

Agriculturist Defined

A farmer, according to Major Fletcher, is a man who has farmed or supervised farming upon a piece of land for the last two years. It must be shown, however, that his supervision or efforts contributed to the food supply.

It is not believed likely that the new rulings regarding farmers will have a very marked effect on men from this district. There are few engaged in farming pursuits here but who have been working in this way for some time past, and their efforts are largely productive of food supply. The board has taken no definite action in regard to industrial exemptions.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

ACOSTA FOUND
GUILTY MURDER
SECOND DEGREE

Defense Was Shot In Self Defense When Enemy Reached For Gun

The jury that tried Rufus Acosta of La Habra found him guilty of murder in the second degree, which has attached to it a penalty of a prison sentence of not less than ten years.

Acosta killed Antonio Villagomez at La Habra on May 14. The two men had had a quarrel. Acosta went to Ramona Acres and got a revolver at his father's house, and returned. He said that Villagomez threw a bucket at him. He then fired a shot, but did not try to hit his enemy. Villagomez was reaching over a table, as though for a weapon, when Acosta fired the shot that hit him in the back and killed him.

Acosta claimed he shot in self defense. Deputies A. E. Koepsel and W. F. Menton, who made a splendid presentation of the case, appeared for the state and Attorney Rivera defended Acosta.

The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and a verdict was not reached until after 1 o'clock this morning. Sentence will be passed by Judge Thomas at 1:30 o'clock Friday.

More Belgians

Belgians are making a run on the naturalization books. In addition to six who have taken out first papers in the last few days, come four more natives of the devastated country who are seeking citizenship in this land. They are all farmers at Los Alamitos. They are Rene Cannon, aged 28, here since 1910; August De Waes, engineer, 19, here since 1914; Gustaf Beerens, 31, here since 1909; Aman Steppes, 35, here since 1907.

Divorce Cases

Suit for divorce has been brought by Sophie Ravitz against Frank Ravitz. A final decree of divorce has been given Thomas W. Nolan against Margaret M. Nolan.

Another Deputy

County Game Warden Adkinson has named George W. Harris as a deputy.

Will Is Filed

The will of Mrs. Lucy A. Greenleaf, who died recently, has been filed for probate. James F. Snowden is the petitioner. The estate concerned is valued at $700. Williams & Rutan are attorneys for the petitioner. The property goes to relatives of the deceased.

Contract Recorded

There is recorded a contract from the Southern Pacific to the Orange County Engineering & Construction Company for paving 540 square feet on Third street, Santa Ana.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

ANOTHER FINE OF
$200 IS PAID FOR THE SLOT MACHINE

Agent Who Put the Device In County Pays Money to Justice Cox

Another fine, this time $200, has been added to the list of those that have been paid as a result of Deputy District Attorney Koepsel's activities in ridding the county of slot machines and punch boards. The total is now well over $1200.

The last fine collected was $200 from J. J. Franke, who was agent for J. J. Gans of Los Angeles in the distribution of some of the paraphernalia among poolrooms and cigar stores in this county.

In the Spotlight

J. R. Williams of Huntington Beach has a spotlight which he did not keep turned down upon the road as the law provides. The motorcops arrested him, and he paid a fine of $5.

Justice Cox is making the price for non-deflection $5. A little later when people get used to the new law and when there will be less excuse, perhaps, for its violation, the price may be raised.
